Weather conditions and general forecast. -The disturbance central Wednesday mornng in the lake region has filled up and practically disappeared. The pressure has risen decidedly over the mouth of the Saint Lawrence river and fallen in the south-

Light rains fell during the last twentyfour hours in the lower Mississippi and up-per Ohio valleys, the lake region and locally in the south Atlantic states, Kansas, Nebraska and South Dakota. Excepting a fall of temperature in the northwest there have been few changes of importance.

Generally fair weather is indicated for all portions of the Washington forecast dis-trict, except eastern New York, the lower lake region and along the south Atlantic coast, where light rain will fall this afternoon or tonight. It will be somewhat cooler tonight in the lower lake region; elsewhere the temperature changes will be unimportant.

The winds along the middle Atlantic coast will be light and variable. On the south Atlantic coast mostly light to fresh northeasterly winds will prevail. On the lower lakes variable winds will continue. Steamers which depart today for European ports will have light southwesterly winds and fair weather to the Grand banks. The following heavy precipitation (in inches) has been reported during the past twenty-four hours: Amite, La., 2.64; Brookhaven, Miss., 3.21; St. Kitts, W. I.,

CAN BE CHANGED BY KNOWLEDGE. If there is any doubt about making brain power by the use of certain food, the doubter should make the following experiment: Helen Frances Huntington of Gainesville, Ga.

says: "Just a word of commendation concerning Grape Nuts, which I have found to be the most wholesome, nourishing and appetizing food that has ever come to my knowledge.
"I am not a dyspeptic, but being constantly engaged in severe brain work I found that I did not thrive on ordinary diet; even a moderate dinner

duiled my brain so as to be practically incapable of critical work. I tried meat juice, peptonoids, the two-meal system of light breakfast and no supper, which brought on nervous depletion and sleeplessness, so 1 resorted to one and another of the various health foods which all seemed allke tasteless and valueless as a brain food, until quite by chance, I had a dish of Grape-Nuts food served as a dessert. I liked it so well that I began to use it dally, for supper four teaspoonsful in a saucer of hot milk, eaten before it dissolve

REPORT OF GEN. WOOD

MILITARY CONDITIONS IN THE DE-PARTMENT OF CUBA.

Conduct of the Troops Excellent-Interesting Recommendations Based on Experience of the Soldiers.

The War Department has made public the annual report of Major General Leonard Wood, commanding the department of Cuba, for the last fiscal year. A preceding report treated of the civil administration of the island. This report deals with milibuildings the past 3 months tary affairs entirely. General Wood says the general conduct of the American troops Our glass and our prices in Cuba continues to be excellent, and, as heretofore, complaints against them from civil authorities and individuals are extremely rare.

> The Canteen. The old canteen issue is revived in this report through a subreport furnished by Inspector General Burton. He says that the exchange is a great comfort to the soldier in Cuba, who is deprived of many of the comforts known to him at home. The officers generally complain that the elimination of beer from the exchange has worked a hardship on the soldier and has been detrimental to good order and military disciommendations to submit, based upon the experience of the American soldier in Cuba. instance, he says that the cavalry LOCAL MENTION. Page 16

Canada Well Content. From the Charlottetown (Canada) Guardian. We are well content with our institutions.

A majority of our people believe we have the very best form of government in the world. There is no other community of five millions in the world who enjoy a great measure of liberty, and few who have so much of the comforts of life coupled with so much security for life and property. We have an exceedingly rich possession for our numbers, and our trade is greater per head I had no desire whatever for sweet pastrys, meats, or, in fact, anything else, and my brain was as clear and active at night as on awaking from a long, refreshing sleep.

"The peculiar advantage about Grape-Nuts food is that it supplies the nutritive qualities of a varied diet without the bad results of heavy eating. I cheerfully recommend its use to all brain workers, if not as an exclusive diet, certainly for the last meal of the day. I always take it with me when traveling, which saves a deal of annoyance and discomfort."

Blackwell, one of the alleged promoters of the hemp project, and Major Duncan B. Harrison, who were unable to attend meetings thus far, and will then consider the case and formulate a report. The hearing, which began a week ago last Monday has been notable for the wide range the various witnesses, and parwhile range the various withesses, and par-ticularly Mr. Hawks, have been permitted to take and the flat contradictions which several witnesses have made of each other's statements. An interesting rumor was prev-alent at the inquiry yesterday to the effect that Mr. Hawks had intimated to several persons his determination to bring suit against Col. Heistand, Gen. Corbin, Dudley & Michener, Mr. Meiklejohn and Secretary Root for alleged defamation of character regardless of what the committee might Heistand-Hawks Conversation. Mr. Walter H. Allensworth, former clerk to Col. Heistand, was sworn, and, after The Star's report closed yesterday, said he occupied a deck in the colonel's room during the summer of 1899. Major Hawks was a visitor from time to time. Asked by Mr. Needham if he had ever heard any conversations between Col. Heistand and Major Hawks, he said he had, but could only recall them in a general way, as he was very busy. Witness knew they were on the subject of the projected hemp company but never heard anything about any divi-sion of stock. He had heard, however, the names of Gen. Corbin, Mr. Melklejohn and Mr. Dudley mentioned in connection with the company. Witness occupied a desk, he said, immediately at Col. Heistand's left in the office. Persons talking with the latter were within six or seven feet of witness. He never knew of but one talk when Major Hawks and Col. Heistand used confidential tones. All others were conducted in or-dinary tones. Had witness heard anything about stock being given to Gen. Corbin or Mr. Meiklejohn it would have impressed him. The whispered conversation occurred about six weeks before Col. Heistand sailed for Europe. Up to this conversation the re-lations seemed to be cordial between them, but after it witness did not remember that

Major Hawks called again.

At the close of the whispered conversation, which was lengthy, witness said he heard Hawks say, "I have not been fairly treated," and gained the impression that he was dissatisfied about something. There might have been conversations between the two men when witness was not present, he said in reply to a question of Judge Mackey's. Witness did not know to whom Hawks referred when he said he had been unfairly treated. Hawks seemed to be very much agitated when he used the words, and his manner impressed the conversation on witness.

"What agreement or understanding was there between you and Maj. Hawks and where was the agreement made? of Dudley & Michener. Dudley & Michener were to receive $50,000, I was to receive $25,000 and Major Hawks was to receive the balance. NORTH CHINA SITUATION. Russia Said to Be Massing Troops Near Borders of Chili. From the Shanghai Mercury, Sept. 5.

The Chinese say that the foreign powers are demanding from China that the promised edicts should be issued, but the Chinese maintain that the foreigners have not kept their promises with regard to the withdrawal of their troops. They maintain that if the way from the sea coast to Pekin is merely to be guarded there are more foreign troops massed there than is required for that purpose, especially in Tien Tsin, and that before issuing the promised edicts a number of these troops must be with-drawn. The powers do not look at the matter in the same light as China, and the British especially decline to withdraw any more troops for the present. We are informed that General Creagh has advised his government not to withdraw a single man for the present. This advice is not particularly because he fears any great outbreak amongst the Chinese, but in con-sequence of the way Russia is acting at the present moment. There are rumors, and by what we can gather there is a great deal of truth in them, that the Russians are massing a considerable force near the borders of Chill, and this action is looked upon with distrust, especially by Great Britain. She and other powers are afraid that if there should be any new trouble break out Russia will pour her troops into Tien Tsin Russia will pour her troops into Tien Tsin in such numbers as to swamp the whole of the forces of the other powers should they withdraw more troops. It does not look as though Great Britain intends to withdraw more troops, for we learn that she is preparing to build substantial barracks at Tien Tsin for her soldiers, so that they may be housed properly during the coming winbe housed properly during the coming win-ter. It would be a fatal mistake, we think, should the number of British troops up north be lessened till all the trouble is over and till the Russian forces are withdrawn

Whenever the amount of ½ share, viz., $87.50, is paid in we settle The half share and reduce the interest 50 Cents. In making building loans we charge interest only on the money used, and not on The whole loan, until it is all taken out. On Sums borrowed below $1.500 or over we make No charge for expenses, Office, 506 lith st.
